Cameron Moisture Picture Looking Better As Wet Weather Continues

Cameron's rainfall picture is looking definitely better for the coming year according to records from the Water office.

Although we have actually had less rain during January and February of 1953 (4.25) than in January and February of 1952 (4.31), our late fall rains were a great improvement over the year before.

For the period Nov. 1, 1951 to March 1, 1952, Cameron had a total of 6.70 inches. For the period Nov. 1, 1952 to March 1, 1953, the total was 14.24.

Total rainfall for Monday and Monday night was officially recorded at .05 inches.

Total rain for 1952 was 29.73 inches. Average yearly rainfall for Cameron is 34.5 inches.

Sprinkles of rain dampened east and central Texas Monday, but everywhere showers were light.

Forecasters said prospects were dim for any important rainfall Tuesday, though clouds continued to drift over the state.

The weak southern edge of a transcontinental storm reached south as far as Waco late Monday. But the front stalled and began to break up without producing much-needed Texas rainfall.

The heaviest rain reported in the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 p. m. Monday was .12 of an inch in Victoria. Lighter rain and drizzle fell in Texarkana, Austin, Dallas, Houston, Waco, Fort Worth, Corpus Christi, College Station and Palacios.

AN EDITORIAL

We've heard a lot of grousing about our parking from a lot of sources. Some people are still yelling their heads off and even now after the meters have been paid for and belong to the city they'd like to scrap them and dispose of the 15 thousand odd dollars worth of equipment.

We feel that even those who have been against them will change their minds if they know the true facts and figures about the meters, so here they are.

We have 176 meters in the business district of the town and they were originally contracted for for $16,175.84. However by paying the entire balance on June 4, 1952 the city council saved the city $595.60 when they were given a 10% discount. This made the meters actually cost the city $15,536.24.

As for the money that the meters have taken in, here's where it's gone, from the time that they were first installed through the last day of February, 1953.

Thirty dollars was paid out for a surety bond. There have been $5,416.60 paid out in salaries. Labor for installation and other incidentals was $2,041.59. Maintenance

Navy Sec'y. Anderson Makes Statement On Public School System

R. B. Anderson, president Texas State Board of Education, now Secretary of the Navy.

"Public schools within a democracy ought always to be under the control of the people most directly concerned with their management and operation. The privilege of local control of the public schools imposes upon the citizenship of each community the responsibility of being constantly aware of the procedures, curricula and personnel of the schools in their community.

"Public Schools Week has made a particularly significant contribution to democratic education by stimulating the citizens of most of the communities in Texas to visit their schools during the first week in March.

"I sincerely hope that more people will become alert to both their responsibilities and privileges in our educational system."

Cotton Insurance Deadline March 31

Alva E. Sanders, Milam Cunty PMA Administration officer reports, March 31, 1953 as the final date that cotton producers may make application for Federal All-Risk Cotton Crop Insurance.

Sanders says "No cotton grower should attempt to make a crop without this low cost protection."

According to Sanders "This insurance protects the investment the cotton producer has in his crop, against damage or complete loss from any natural unavoidable cause." Sanders states, the insurance program is a farmer's program, and all premiums that are paid in to the corporation remains in the county to cover any losses that may occur. He urges all cotton producers to come by the PMA office and get all the details regarding the program before March 31, 1953 deadline.

American Legion To Honor Korean Vets Week of March 15-22

The American Legion through its state community service chairman, Mayor R. C. Gusman of Bay City, is urging Texas civic, church and school organizations to join the American Legion and its more than 800 posts in observance of "Korean Veterans Appreciation Week," March 15 to 22.

Chambers of Commerce, Junior Chambers of Commerce, Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis, Optimist, Exchange and Civitan Clubs were urged to join in showing the returned veterans of the Korean conflict an old fashioned outburst of Texas appreciation during the designated week. Likewise, schools and churches were urged by Mayor Gusman to do their part in the movement.

"Our Korean veterans have participated in a bloody and costly war but in the state and national consciousness we have taken that fact too much as a matter of course," Gusman declared. "We owe it to these tens of thousands of Texans to say 'thank you,' and this will be a great opportunity."

Certificates of appreciation will be issued by the American Legion to returned Korean veterans. The certificates will be presented to the families of those who do not return.

Three Awards Given Buckholts FFA Boys At Houston Show

Buckholts can be justly proud of such FFA boys as the three who brought back winners' awards from the big Houston Fat Stock Show which ended Feb. 15.

Jimmie Lee Love, 17 years old, and treasurer of his chapter, won honors with his Guernsey heifer entry in the Boys' Jr. Dairy Show and brought back a red ribbon award.

Gene Angell, age 16, a chapter farmer, won 6th place in the boys' fat steer show with his Shorthorn entry.

John Robert Caffey, age 16, and Parliamentarian of his chapter, won 3rd place in the boys' show with his Shorthorn steer.

The 21st annual edition of the Houston Fat Stock Show was record-breaking in every way—in auction sales results, in attendance and in the number of entries and quality of livestock exhibited.

Including champions in each sale, the 1953 auctions grossed $319,431.45 as compared to the 1952 total of $236,966.98.

The rodeo, starring Eddy Arnold, the Tennessee Plowboy with the Oklahoma Wranglers, and featuring the Range Rider, Jack Mahoney in real life, and his sidekick Dickie West, drew well over 160,000 spectators for the 19 performances. An addition 77,500 people saw the livestock show alone, sending front gate admission soaring beyond the 237,500 mark.

Abolishing Gas Tax Refunds May Create Excitement

Austin.—Abolishing gasoline tax refunds would provide for a perpetual farm-to-market highway fund and give $4 million a year more for schools.

Chairman E. H. Thornton Jr. of the Texas Highway Commission made that assertion as he prepared an analysis of the state's road situation for presentation to the Legislature.

Gasoline tax refunds go to those using the fuel for non-highway purposes. Last year refunds amounted to $15,367,000 of $120,244,,000 collected. Most of the refunds go to farmers who use gasoline for farm vehicles and machines.

Thornton is asking for an additional $100 million per year to bring Texas highways up to the highest standard and maintain them for the next 10 years.

The "kick-off" for the year long observance of the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the first farm demonstration in the nation will be held on the Porter Farm—site of the first demonstration—on February 26.

National 4-H Club Week will be observed during the week of March 7-15.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Burrough spent the past weekend in Victoria where they visited Mrs. Burrough's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stracener and girls. They also visited in Port Lavaca while on the trip.

Johnson, Poage Push Flood Control Bills

Senator Lyndon Johnson and Congressman W. R. Poage are hopeful of winning passage by Congress of their bills to permit direct co-operation between the Federal and local governments on flood prevention in small, upstream watersheds, Johnson said Sunday night in a radio broadcast from Washington.

The senator's comment was included in the first of a series of radio reports to be heard at 9:15 p. m. on the first Sunday of each month. Radio Station WACO is among the Texas State Network stations carrying the Johnson reports.

"At present," said Johnson, "there is no authority for direct co-operation between the Federal and local governments on flood prevention problems. Those are the areas which often in Texes need the most protection.

K. P. Ewing Gets High Agriculture Post

"K. P. Ewing, veteran entomologist, whose work with the cotton farmers on insect control has meant the difference between success and failure, has been appointed to a high post with the United States Department of Agriculture in Washington. Ewing has been chosen to head the division of insects affecting cotton and other fiber plants. Ewing has been a research entomologist with the department for more than 32 years. For the past year he has concentrated his efforts on a study of ways to bring under control the pink boll work, now considered one of cotton's most dangerous pests.

For several years Ewing has devoted much time to training extension service workers, veteran agricultural teachers and Farmers Home Administration county supervisors. He has been particularly interested in the welfare of the family-type farmer.

Becoming associated with the USDA in 1920 Ewing immediately took high rank as an administrator and a scientist, and has made many contributions to the yield and quality of cotton through the development of better insect control.

A graduate of Mississippi State College, he took an important part in research that proved sulfur to be an effective control for the destructive cotton flea-hopper, and he was the first to show that arsenicals could be used to control certain insects, the tarnished plant bug, and other insects that feed on plant juices.

From 1939 until his recent elevation to the Washington Post, Mr. Ewing was in charge of a cotton research laboratory at Waco. There he and his staff pioneered in discovering the value and proper use of many of the new synthetic insecticides, which are widely used throughout the cotton growing states today. In recognition of his work the USDA in 1949 awarded him the Superior Service Award.

The Progressive Farmer in 1950, named Mr. Ewing "Man of the Year" for outstanding service to Agriculture; and the Cotton Gin and Oil Mill Press dedicated its 1951 cotton issue to him for his work on early season and community-wide insect control. The editor in dedicating the issue dubbed Ewing "Mr. Insect Control," a sobriquet that those who know him and know of his work, say was well applied.

While Mr. Ewing's outstanding accomplishments included leadership in actual on-the-ground warfare against cotton insects, he is also distinguished as an author of various bulletins in which insect control is given scientifc treatment as to use and practice designed to combat effectually cotton insect pests of every kind.

Plans for community meetings to organize for a membership campaign were made at a meeting of the membership committee of the Milam County Farm Bureau this week.

A kickoff dinner for workers will be held March 17 to begin the campaign. Workers for each community will be selected at the community meetings which will be held before the drive begins.

John A. Smith, vice-president of the county bureau, is membership chairman. Others present at the meeting were: Dennis Klein, president; Miss Lenora A. Bickett, office manager; W. F. Arthur, service agent; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lindsey; Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood McClaren Jr., and Robert Jungmann.

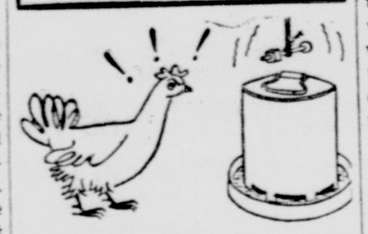
The Milam County Livestock Commission had its largest sale in several weeks Saturday when they ran 782 head of cattle through their ring, according to Manager Finley Blackwell.

Handy Hints



Having trouble with hens roosting on water fountains, or self feeders? Then try this Handy Hint: Suspend a bolt—(a heavy nut, hoop, or piece of metal will do)—from the ceiling until it hangs like a plumb bob directly over the fountain.

When a hen tries to fly up on top of the fountain, she bumps into the weight—and she's promptly discouraged. She won't hold her perch long, even if she gets a foothold, because of the swinging weight.

Rockdale Population Estimated at 4,600; Alcoa Causes Influx

Rockdale. — Rockdale's wrists have been showing a couple of inches below its coat sleeves for the last few months and the worst probably is yet to come.

The latest estimates show that population in Milam county aluminum center has doubled and new stands at something like 4,600 persons.

Alcoa's plant isn't anywhere near complete yet so the influx probably will continue, according to officials. Recently the city got a fedral grant for water and sewer extension and improvement. To get the money Rockdale must vote $100,000 in revenue bonds and there seems to be no doubt around town that election will fail.

Rockdale is looking to Port Lavaca and Calhoun county where Alcoa established a plant five years ago.

In 1940, before aluminum, the Port Lavaca census was 2,069. Rockdale had 2,136 at the same time. Port Lavaca had 5,062 residents in 1950. Rockdale, with no kicker before the 1950 census, had 2,311. That's an increase of 175 persons.

Now in the last year and a half Rockdale probably has climbed in population even more than it grew in any similar period in history including the lignite boom days.

Certified planting seed may cost slightly more than other seed but the added expense gives assurance of purity, higher germination and better yields at harvest time.

The Texas Certified Hybrid Corn Growers Association in cooperation with the Texas Extension Service is again sponsoring the statewide Texas Hybrid Corn Production program. Local county agents can supply detailed information on the program.

The week of March 7-14 has been designated by Governor Shivers as 4-H Club Week in Texas. 4-H members in Texas now number more than 117,000.

Farmers are impressing upon their sons the importance of farm machinery to the huge farm production job so essential to the welfare of the country. Farm machinery replacement is necessary to the farmer in order to keep the farm plant in full operation. Set up a farm machinery replacement plan by investing regularly in U. S. Defense Bonds. By investing in safe, dependable U. S. Defense Bonds you will have money on hand to replace your valuable farm machinery when it is needed.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER GLAD THE PRESIDENT IS KEEPING HIS FARM EVEN IF IT ISN'T PAYING OFF

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher in his Johnson grass farm at Marlow is off on topics he doesn't know much about again this week, which is customary with him.

Dear editar:

Last week in my letter to you I was talkin about the school teachers' problem, how there was a shortage of teachers in Texas due to the fact the profession apparently has been under-paid and is failin to attract enough young people, all the smart ones want to go into something that pays better, and how a lot of people believe the solution is to give the teachers an increase in pay.

This may be right, but I'm afraid the request comes anywhere from 15 to 30 years too late to help the present adult population.

You can look around you now and see that what this country needed 30 years ago, add or subtract a few years, was an increase in teachers' pay in order to attract a lot better class of teachers, that is, just judgin by the amount of education you and me and a lot of others I could name absorbed.

The argument for more teachers and better teachers and more money to attract 'em is pretty plain, when you examine the state of a lot of grown people's education. I ain't sayin if they'd paid my teachers more money they'd had any better luck with me, but I reckon I'm gettin close to sayin it.

But I didn't start out to discuss the teachers' problems, what I started out to say is everybody has problems. For example, before he had any notion of runnin for President, Eisenhower bought a farm up in Pennsylvania and the newspapers were full of his plans about it. He and a partner were goin to operate it and split the profits fifty-fifty.

Well, the other day I noticed in a newspaper that up to now there haven't been any profits to split and that President Eisenhower has decided he hasn't got time to be President and look after a farm too.

I know what he means. Runnin a farm is a full-time job and the day never was made with enough hours in it to run a farm and the Presidency too.

But I notice Eisenhower is holdin on to the place, and I'm glad of it. Just because a farm don't show any profit is no reason for sellin it. If it was, the real estate people in this country would get rich on commissions.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

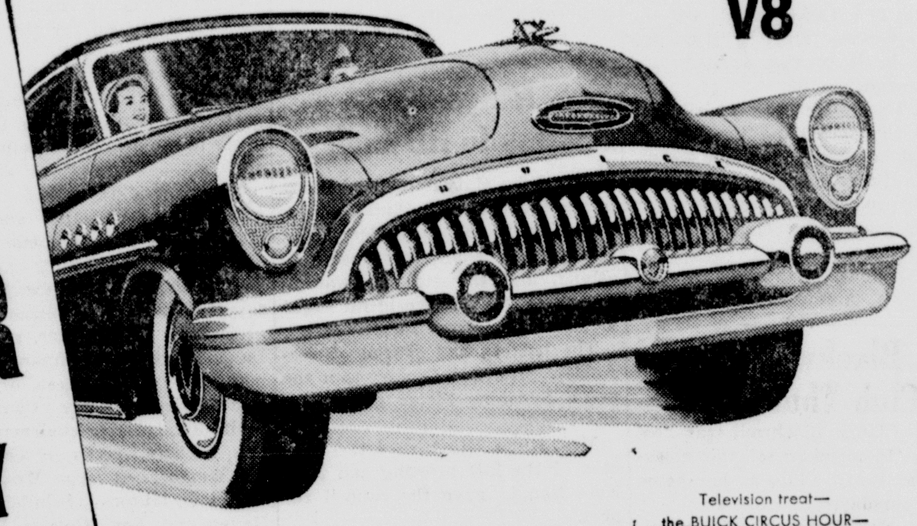
UP GOES THE POWER OF EVERY BUICK— Special Super and Roadmaster!

World's newest V8



Television treat— the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR— every fourth Tuesday

IT'S more than pride that makes a man want a lot of horsepower beneath the hood of the car he owns.

For the real point in reaching record horsepowers and compression ratios goes beyond miles per hour. It steps up performance and economy in normal driving.

That's what Buick engineers did when they upped the power and compression of each 1953 Buick – SPECIAL, SUPER and ROADMASTER – to the highest figures in Buick's fifty-year history.

In the SUPER and ROADMASTER, they put a new kind of V8 Engine–first passenger-car V8 with 8.5 to 1 compression, and a long list of other major engineering advances.

For the SPECIAL, they redesigned the famed F-263 Fireball 8 Engine – gave it shorter flame travel, faster firing, higher horsepower and compression.

And to these spirited engines they coupled the new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive* that adds flash-fast, quiet getaway to utter smoothness.

Just to give you an example of what all this means: The 1953 Buick SPECIAL with Dynaflow can beat the mighty 1952 ROADMASTER on getaway–can reach 30 mph (when the law allows) with a combined speed and jerk-free smoothness no other car can equal.

Of course, there's far more to these new Buicks for 1953 – some seven dozen new features alone.

But why not come in and see for yourself that these are the greatest Buicks–and the greatest values–in fifty great years.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER SAYS NEW IDEA TO HAVE TELEVISION REPLACE THE SCHOOL WON'T WORK

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm at Marlow may be fighting a straw man this week, but you can be the judge.

Dear editar:

I'm no expert on education, which I think I've been provin week after week, but one of my neighbors who has a television set was talkin with me the other day and he had an idea.

He said he'd been readin where there is a big teacher shortage in Texas, salaries too low, teachers goin into other lines, not enough new teachers bein trained, more children bein born, school buildings crowded, taxes high, and he said he'd been thinkin, why isn't television the answer?

Instead of payin just a reasonable amount or maybe not quite enough to a lot of teachers, includin the ordinary and the mediocre and occasionally the exceptional, why not a lot just to the exceptional and let the rest go into some other line of work, say bookkeepin or clerkin or housewifin or truck drivin or editin or whatever their abilities fitted 'em for, which would take care of the salary complaint. Then instead of havin a lot of schools all over the country, why couldn't they just have some television studios for the teachers and keep the children at home? That'd save a lot of money on school buildings, in fact, he figured a school district could buy a television set and put up the antenna for every home in the district cheaper than it could build and maintain elaborate school buildings and run busses and hire a flock of teachers, a janitor, a superintendent, two or three principals, pay for floor sweep and utilities, etc.

Under this system, there wouldn't be any dressin for school, no mad rush to get breakfast and get there on time. no lunches to fix, no books to forget, no crises over lost caps and coats, etc. Just have your kids seated in front of the Television set in their pajamas or whatever they had on, no sense even in combin their hair, every morning at 9, switch it on, and have one set of teachers teachin the entire nation, with maybe a fresh set in each time zone to keep from throwing things off schedule.

He figured under this system the country could save probably 75 per cent of its present school bill, every child would have a first-rate teacher, and equality of education would be achieved from the rock-ribbed coast of Maine to the shores of Tripoli, or however far out you can get good TV reception without too much snow.

Now I'll admit this idea has certain appeals, everybody wants to save money and improve the quality of education at the same time, but it won't work.

The reason it won't work is that it ignores one of the primary functions of a school, which is to get your kids out from under foot at least from 9 to 3 five days a week, nine months out of the year. Some things can't be valued in money. It doesn't make any difference what a school system costs, if it gets the kids out of the house, it's worth it. A TV set makes a pretty good baby sitter from 4 to 6 in the afternoon, but it'll never replace the public school, day in and day out.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Brief Articles On Draft Laws And Regulations Given

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of short articles on the draft law and its rules and regulations.

The draft law requires every man registered with a local board to report any change in personal status to his board.

"Young men have asked us just what changes the should report," Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state draft director, says. "Generally, anything which has a bearing on classification should be reported."

The state director pointed to the folowing things which should be regarded as personal change of status:

1. Current change of mail address should always be sent to the board.
2. Marriage should be reported at once.
3. If a wife becomes pregnant with a couple's first child, a physician's certificate must be sent to the board immediately after the fact is known.
4. All additions to the family must be reported.
5. Any and all deaths in a man's family should be reported.
6. If a man and wife are divorced or they no longer live together, this must be reported.
7. Permanent change of job should be reported.
8. Serious injury or physical defect should be reported.
9. If a man becomes a student in a college or university, this fact should be reported.
10. If a man enters the Reserves or National Guard, he should ask his commanding officer to notify his board. He shrould assure himself that it is done.
11. If a man has attempted to volunteer for armed forces service and has been rejected, he should advise his local board.

It is a local draft board's responsibility, under law and regulations, to decide, subject to appeal, the class in which each man registered with it shall be placed.

Each registrant is considered as available for military service until his eligibilty for deferment or exempton from military service is clearly established to the satisfaction of the local board.

The board is obligated to receive all pertinent information on classification presented to it, says Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state draft director.

Mailing by the local board of a classification questionnaire to the latest address furnished by a registrant is notice to the registrant that he will be classified in I-A, unless information is presented to the local board, within the time specified for return of the questionnaire, which will justify his deferment or exemption.

Unless the local board gives him added time, the registrant must return the questionnaire filled out within 10 days from date it was mailed.

The state draft director points to this paragraph in the Selective Service Regulations which the board must always keep in mind:

"In classifying a registrant there shall be no discrimination for or against him because of his race, creed, or color, or because of his membership or activity in any labor,, political, religious, or other organization. Each such registrant shall receive equal justice."

EDITORIAL—

on the meters from August 1950 through February of 1953 has been $1,213.57. Twenty-seven dollars and sixty-two cents has been paid out in social security. This made a total meter expense for the period of $8,729.38.

However, the meter income was $32,532.91.

Here's where the rest of the money has gone. The city bought one street roller for $1,500. They bought a sprayer for $1,999. They bought two tanks for $190 and one truck for $350. This made a total of $4,039 worth of equipment that was bought with money taken from the parking meters. Maintenance on this equipment has cost the city $233.80. In addition to this $1,000 was transferred from the meter fund to a fund for sidewalk cut-backs. This operation is now in progress. This gives us a total of $5,272.70 spent from the parking meter fund on actual street repairs and the equipment to do it with. This was $5,272.70 that did not have to be raised by taxation. The amount paid on the meters for the purchase of them was $15,536.24. This makes a total amount of money spent from that taken in from the parking meters of $29,538.32. This means that on March 1, 1953 the city still has $2,994.59 in the bank which is earmarked for street improvement and maintenance of equipment and meters.

This all makes good sense to us. This is money that has not had to be raised by taxation. The people who are using the streets are paying for their upkeep and repair.

New White Texas Corn Available to Farmers For 1954 Planting

L. J. Gundy, agronomist of the Texas Research Foundation, revealed while addressing San Marcos Rotarians, that H. Conrads, the widely known local seed breeder and hybrid seed grower, had been selected to commercially grow the seed for the Foundation's new white Texas corn hybrid known as "TRF 3." Seed will be available to farmers for the 1954 planting.

Gundy stated that this new white hybrid had been under development by the Foundation since 1944 on its experimental farms at Renner, Collin County, in north Texas. It is, he added, the first white Texas hybrid ever to equal the leading yellow Texas hybrids in yield, which it did in the 1952 official growing tests, covering what is described by A&M authorities as the "principal corn growing area of the state," comprising some 25 big corn producing counties in north Texas.

The Texas Research Foundation official explained that an ample supply of white Texas corn is so extremely important to millers and cereal manufacturers that it was they who persuaded the Foundation in 1944 to start development of a new white hybrid of greater grain size and higher starch cotnent.

HOUSE ACTION—

Bills 447 and 448, would cancel all permits and certified filings of which no part has been used for 10 years and set up a five member Water Pollution Advisory Council, respectively.

The bills by Rep. Bergman, First House Bill No. 450, provide for temporary season water permits not to exceed one year and H. B. 451 widening and strengthening the powers of the State Board of Water Engineers by giving it a seal and authority to enforce its orders by injunction "or other appropriate remedy".

House Bill 449, by Rep. Cobb, clarifies the present statutes by amending certain existing Articles of the Civil Statutes showing how state waters can be appropriated.

The bill which raises the standards of the Texas Board of Water Engineers is sponsored by Rep. Kimbrough (Jarring' Jawn of Texas A&M College football fame) and is No. 452. It provides for six year terms for the three members of the board, to be named by the Governor and Chairman to be named by the chief executive. It calls for the services of a professional engineer to be designated as chief engineer and a board secretary. The bill specifies that each of the board members, the chief engineer and the secretary be under bonds of $5,000 each.

Rep. Meridith sponsors House Bill No. 453 which provides that any future applications for appropriations of any Texas waters by a group, person or association, must make written application to the State Water Board for a permit to make an "appropriation, storage or diversion" of public waters.

The eighth and final bill, H. B. No. 454 by Rep. Kilgore would create a State Water Resources Committee of nine members, three each to be named by the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and House Speaker, all to be confirmed by the State Senate. This committee would make a continuing study of all data on Texas water resources, make recommendations for state water problems and continue in existence as long as needed.

Sara Jane Harmon, 19 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Harman of Waco, is returning to Waco today to join her parents and new baby sister. Sara Jane has spent the past several weeks here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stedman.

TEXAS CATTLE—

Falls, Texas will respond.

Allan Shivers, governor of Texas, will be the first principal speaker at the convention, followed by Clifford Hope, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee and member of Congress from Kansas.

Following Hope will be an address by V. S. Peterson with E. I. de Pont de Mours and Company, Wilmington, Delaware. He will discuss "Rumen Industries, Inc." and is widely known as an authority on chemical advancement as it affects other industries and the consumer.

After Peterson's address President Roach will give the president's annual report, followed by a report from the association attorney, Joe G. Montague of Fort Worth.
